Report Highlights:

On September 7, 2009, the Secretariat of Economy (SE) published a regulation in Mexico's Diario Oficial (Federal Register) to allow an additional 207,000 metric tons (MT) of sugar to be imported from all countries classified under H.T.S. 1701.11.01 and 1701.11.02. A maximum of 186,300 MT can be imported from any country under a specific tariff rate quota while 20,700 MT can be imported duty-free from Nicaragua. This is the third decree published by the SE since August 6, 2009, to allow additional sugar to enter Mexico due to low domestic supplies. Mexico can import the additional sugar through December 2009.

General Information:

The following report summarizes a decree from the Secretariat of Economy (SE), which was published in Mexico's Diario Oficial (Federal Register) on September 7, 2009, that allows Mexico to import an additional 207,000 MT of sugar .

Disclaimer: This summary is based on a cursory review of the subject announcement and therefore should not, under any circumstances, be viewed as a definitive reading of the regulation in question, or of its implications for U.S. agricultural export trade interests. In the event of a discrepancy or discrepancies between this summary and the complete regulation or announcement as published in Spanish, the latter shall prevail.

FAS Mexico's Executive Summary: On September 7, 2009, the SE published a regulation to allow an additional 207,000 MT of refined sugar, classified under H.T.S. 1701.11.01 and 1701.11.02, to be imported under a specific duty. The announcement establishes that 186,300 MT can be imported from any country until December 31, 2009, while Nicaragua can export 20,700 MT of sugar duty-free to Mexico. This is the third announcement from SE that allows sugar to enter under a preferential duty. The first announcement, which was published on August 6, 2009, allowed 100,000 MT to enter (MX9055). The second announcement was published on August 27, 2009, and allowed 150,000 MT of sugar to enter (MX9056). This latest announcement from SE is expected to cover losses in the domestic supply until production picks up, which should be later this fall. The table below summarizes the tariff amount that will be added to the additional imports except for Nicaragua, which can export duty-free to Mexico.
